

Spiders and Snakes

Written by Gerry Axelrod (bridge and verse three by Foster Brown)

Spiders and snakes, spiders and snakes

I'm gonna to learn to like them

No matter how long it takes

No matter how long it takes

Spiders have eight legs, they come in every size.

They like to capture the insects that buzz around your eyes.

They capture food in webs, and sometimes on the go.

But if they're crossing in your path, don't squish them between your toes.

(Chorus)

Some snakes eat insects, some eat rodents, too.

But if there in your garden, they're probably helping you.

Some snakes don't bite anyone, but then there are some that do!

But if you do not bother them, they will not bother you.

(Chorus)

Spiders, spiders, snakes, snakes, spiders and snakes.

Give 'em a chance, for goodness sakes.

Spiders, spiders, snakes, snakes, spiders and snakes.

Let's give them a try!

Spiders and snakes may cause you to fear

But never let these creatures bring you to tears.

Read a book about them or take a hike and see

That if we learn about them sometimes our fears will flee.

(Chorus)
